

Webinars & Presentations Janet Salmons, Ph.D.

- From Dialogue to Synergy: Building Collaborative Relationships. The Fourth Inter-College Conference: Technology, Multiculturalism & Collaboration. (2008) Broadcast live to three colleges in Israel.
- Illinois Online Conference for Teaching and Learning: An online conference sponsored by the Illinois Virtual Campus, Lake Land College and others. Synchronous webcast presentations complemented by an asynchronous discussion:
 - 21c. Social Constructivism: Updating the Theory (2008);
 - Online Culture: Does it Foster Original Work or Encourage Plagiarism? (2007);
 - Storytelling and Collaborative E-Learning (2006) and
 - Information and Communications Technology Literacy through Interactive, Collaborative Team Learning (2005).
- Webinars for international groups of educators and professionals through Elluminate.com (2007-2008):
 - Collaborative Integration Paradigm (2008)
 - IGI GLOBAL Online Symposium on E-Collaboration (2008)
 - Scholarly E-Research (2007)
 - Part 1: Planning Online Qualitative Interviews
 - Part 2: Conducting Online Qualitative Interviews
 - Collaborate Online(2007)
 - Part 1: Laying the Foundations
 - Part 2: Thinking Together
- Fit and Collaboration: Crossing Disciplines to Create Innovative Outcomes. First Global e-Conference on Fit, Open University, England (2007)

- Webinars for international groups of educators and professionals through Trainerspod (2007):
 - How Did WE Do: Assessing Collaborative Projects in the Classroom or the Workplace
 - Conflict in Collaboration: From Getting Along to Getting Things Accomplished
 - Crossing a Line: An Interdisciplinary Conversation about Working Across Disciplines
 - From Working Together to Thinking Together: Building Collaborative Advantage
- Webcast presentation with synchronous and asynchronous discussions for international Communities of Practice group: Learning to Collaborate: Taxonomy of Collaborative E-Learning (2006)
- KnowTIPS: Theory into Practice, an online conference sponsored by KnowPlace and Capilano College, British Columbia, Canada. Synchronous webcast presentations were complemented by an asynchronous discussion:
 - Assessment of Collaborative E-Learning (2006) and
 - Let's Collaborate about Collaborative E-Learning! (2005)
- Webcast presentations with synchronous and asynchronous discussions for international groups of educators through the ICT (Internet and Communications Technology) Literacy and Learning Times communities; topics presented in 2004 and 2005 included:
 - Let's Discuss Collaborative E-learning!
 - Writing Content and ICT Literacy Objectives
 - Collaborative E-learning Activities to Develop Critical Thinking
- Webcast guest lectures on Collaborative E-Learning for Capilano College Continuing Education Certificate Program on E-Moderating and the Marlboro College Graduate Center (2005)
- Technology, Colleges and Community Worldwide Conference: hosted by University of Hawai'i, Kapi'olani Community College with Osaka Gakuin University (Japan) and Learning Times. A synchronous webcast presentation was made on the topic: E-Learning in the Global Milieux. (2005)
- Faculty Development for Lynn University Online Educators (2003-2006):
 - Distance Learning Online: Beginning to Develop and Teach Online Courses
 - Developing Substantive Online Course Content
 - Expanding the Learning Milieu: Learning with Emerging Technologies
 - Engage Students in Inquiry & Dialogue
 - Assessment in Online Classes.
- Innovations in Collaborative E-Learning, Collaborative Learning Conference, online at www.icohere.com, January, 2004.

- Collaboration: DNA of Online Learning Collaborative Online and Blended Learning Conference, online at www.icohere.com, November 2002.
- TechSoup.org: 5-day Asynchronous Learning Events for Nonprofit Leaders
 - 2005: Online Learning and Collaboration with Frances Long, and Carole Cotton of Knowplace and Dan Bassill of the Tutor/Mentor Connection.
 - 2003: Using Online Communities to Enhance Learning for Your Organization.
 - 2001: Nonprofit Virtual Communities.
- National Nonprofit Leadership Training Institutes: Designed and produced five-day institutes for directors on program management issues; Created manuals and materials, distributed nationally to participants.
- National Interactive Videoconferences for Nonprofit Leadership: Planned and produced national videoconferences for program staff and educators.

Archived recordings and handouts for many of these presentations are available at www.vision2lead.com.